

Brussels, Belgium

Description of the fridge Magnet: This fridge magnet is from Belgium and shows 3 houses. There is a Beer house, a Chocolate house and the last is a Waffle house.

Fun fact: there is a statue called the Manneken Pis that survived the Bombardment of Brussels

--oOo--

Carcassonne, Aude, Occitane, France

Description of the fridge magnet:

This Fridge Magnet describes the City of Carcassonne.

Fun fact: The city of Carcassonne is a village surrounded by a wall; the city has nearly 48,000 inhabitants. Carcassonne is 2500 years old and has a trace of every time in its history.

--oOo--

Description of the fridge magnet: You can see on my fridge magnet the Lago di Garda. It is a lake in Italy. In German it's called Gardasee. Holidays there are very nice, but it was so crowded in the summer holidays. I really like this magnet because it actually looks like a stamp.

Fun fact: Lago di Garda is the biggest lake in Italy. The lake is about 50 kilometers long and the deepest point goes 346 meters down. The lake is very famous for his diversity of fruits, for example lemons or olives.

--oOo--

Florence, Italy

Description: On this fridge magnet, we can see the cathedral of Florence, also known as the cathedral of Saint Mary of the flower. (Cattedrale metropolitana di Santa Maria del Fiore)

Fun fact: Arnolfo di Cambio started to design the cathedral in 1296 in gothic style. In 1436, Filippo Brunelleschi finished the construction. The cathedral of Florence is one of the largest churches in Italy.

--oOo--

St. Stephen's Cathedral, Vienna, Austria

Description of the fridge magnet: the image of my fridge magnet is that of the Cathedral of Saint Stephen. It is in Austria in the capital Vienna. The cathedral St. Stephen is one of the most important gothic buildings in Austria.

Fun fact: In the former Austria-Hungary, no church could be built above the south tower of St. Stephen's Cathedral. This is why the Cathedral Linz was built two meters below.

--oOo--

Vienna, Austria

Description of the fridge magnet: The magnet is from Vienna, the picture represents the town hall pictured at night. It was built in 1872.

Fun fact: In front of this town hall, when I was in Vienna, there were horses, and you could go for wagon rides and get pulled by the horses.

--oOo--

Negresco in Nice, France

Description of the fridge magnet: The magnet has the shape of a flip-flop and inside you can see the hotel Negresco in Nice. Below is the real sand from the Nice Beach

Fun fact: The Hotel Negresco is a luxury hotel which opened in 1912, directly on the Promenade des Anglais in Nice. The special thing is that we can see the special roof around the whole coast. In this hotel sleep a lot of prominent people.

--oOo--

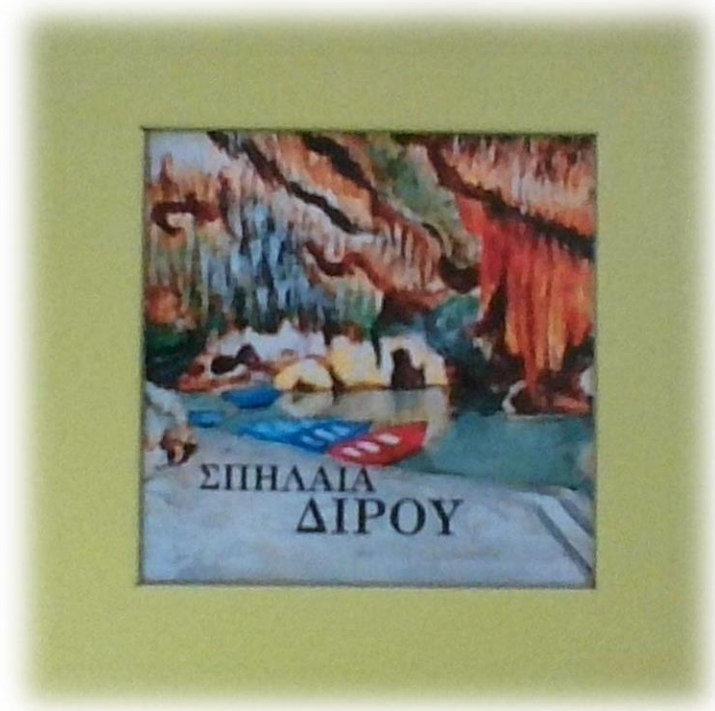

Amsterdam, Netherlands

Description of the fridge magnet: On the magnet, there is a mill, houses and tulips.

Fun fact: In Amsterdam (and Holland), there are a lot of windmills and tulips. A lot of tourists come to see the fields full of the flowers, or to see the mills, because they are also very famous. In summer, it's beautiful because the flowers are in lot of colours, and sometimes there are mills in the middle of the fields.

--oOo--

Caves of Diros, Peloponnese Greece

Description of the fridge magnet: A painting of the caves of Diros

Fun fact: Diros cave is a sea cave considered to be the best from the three most beautiful sea caves in the world! It is 3100 meters in length. You can go through wet and dry areas, during your tour. The wet area is 2800 meters in length. The cave exploration started at 1949 and today over 10.000 m² are explored.

--oOo--

Storks in Alsace, France

Description of the fridge magnet: in the fridge magnet you can see a stork over a nest. The storks are the symbol of Alsace.

Fun fact: Storks have been part of Alsace for centuries, and they are thought to be symbols of happiness and faithfulness and bring fertility and good luck

--oOo--

Isle of Sicily

Description of the fridge magnet: this magnet is the view from the Isle of Sicily at the bottom of Italy.

Fun fact: On this isle are many active volcanos: Etna, Stromboli, and Vesuvius. Sicily has 238 nature zones Natura2000 and this covers a lot of hectares. This island protects nature, which makes this Island very green and attractive for people around the world.

--oOo--

Biscarrosse, Hossegor, France

Description of the fridge magnet:

This fridge magnet has the shape of waves and there is a typical surfer van on it .

There is a palm tree behind the van.

We can also see the ocean and a big sign with famous cities located on the Atlantic coast.

Fun fact:

Hossegor is very famous for its surfing Championship Quiksilver Pro France and Biscarrosse for the junior Pro Challenge.

The Atlantic coast is famous for its long wide sandy beaches and is the dream of all surfers. Near Biscarrosse there is the famous Dune of Pilat which is the highest sand dune in Europe.

--oOo--

Stockholm, Sweden

The city is built on 14 different islands connected by bridges.
'Venice of the North'

Fun fact: Stockholm is one of the world's cleanest metropolises.

--oOo--

Paris, France

Description of the fridge magnet: this magnet represents Paris, and France, as is written. On the magnet is the Eiffel tower and the Arc de Triomphe. In the background are trees. At the edge is written love Paris.

Fun fact: The Eiffel Tower was built from 1887 to 1889. The tower is 324m tall. It is named after the engineer, Gustave Eiffel, who's designed and built the tower.

The Eiffel Tower and the Arc de Triomphe are both famous because they represent France and they are beautiful and big monuments.

--oOo--

Naturkundemuseum Berlin, Germany

Description of the fridge magnet:

This fridge magnet is from the Naturkundemuseum Berlin. It represents the skeleton of a big vegetarian dinosaur, which is placed in the middle of the entrance. This dinosaur is the show piece of the Naturkundemuseum Berlin, and his name is Tristan.

Fun fact: The brain of this dinosaur was not bigger than an apple!!! :-D

--oOo--

Malaga, Spain

Description of the fridge magnet: My brother bought this fridge magnet of Malaga when he was there for a swim competition.

Fun fact: You can see it's broken in the middle because it fell to the ground and then it broke.

--oOo--

Neuschwanstein castle in Germany.

Fun fact: Neuschwanstein Castle is known for its immense art. The castle is also built at a very beautiful location and when the sun is shining on the castle it looks a bit magical. It is one of the most famous tourist attractions in Germany.

--oOo--

The leaning tower of Pisa, Tuscany, Italy

Description of the fridge magnet: this is a picture of the famous tower in Pisa, Tuscany. It took 2 centuries to build. The tower is famous for its nearly four-degree lean. The height of the tower is 55.86 metres

Fun fact: many people take pictures at a precise angle pretending to hold the tower.